FOREWARD

Presented here for retrospection are some of the events of the school year 1964-65, as we the yearbook staff have recorded for you. Herein you will be introduced to your teachers, your classmates, the activities, the phenomena of life at Clarence High School . . .

As we have completed the last year of high school at Clarence, we realize that the greatest year of progress is here. Next year will be a new year, a new spirit, a new South Shelby High School. May the future of that school be ever forward-looking and its promise bright with fulfillment . . . No type of public service is more praiseworthy than that given by those citizens who aid the schools. We, the Triangle Staff, express our appreciation to those who helped in any way during the years at Clarence High School . . .

Proudly Dedicates This Book to the Future

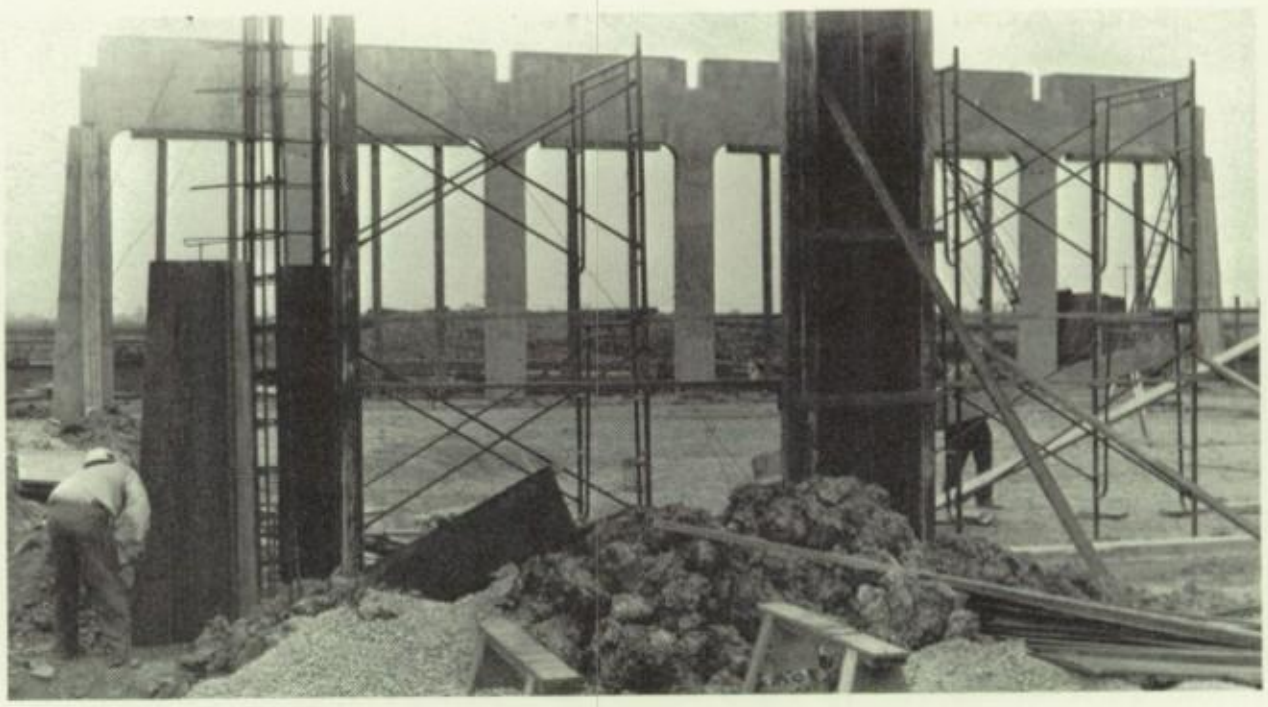
South Shelby High School



Our "C" stands for classes, cooperation, consideration, character--as well as for Clarence High School. The scenes in our school picture the halls full of students hurrying to classes--band students being measured for uniforms--dances in the gym--and empty halls filled with memories of years well spent.

ADMINISTRATION

Board of Education

Shelby County School District R-IV

The academic year of 1964-65 has been a year of decision concerning the new building, the policies, and the regulations which will govern the school. The Board of Education has spent many long hours of planning in order to give the entire communities of Shelbina and Clarence an excellent educational system for their young people. During the year, combined class officers of both divisions, combined F.F.A. members, and combined Student Council members have met and recommended proposals to the Board on several occasions. Decisions were made on the school colors of red, white, and blue; the school emblem, which will be the Cardinal; and the official name of the school, which will be South Shelby High School. We, the TRIANGLE staff, commend this decision-making body for their fine support and untiring work for our future.

MR. JAMES R. NEVINS, Superintendent

Mr. Nevins received Bachelor of Science and Master of Arts degrees from Northeast Missouri State Teachers College at Kirksville. He has served in an educational capacity in the Clarence Schools for eight years. For the past two years he has been Superintendent of the Shelby County School District R-IV.

MR. JOHN E. CRAWFORD, Principal

Mr. Crawford received Bachelor of Science and Master of Arts degrees from Northeast Missouri State Teachers College at Kirksville. He teaches Algebra II and Math Analysis. This is his third year of teaching at Clarence. He has shown leadership in the absence of Mr. Nevins.

Mrs. Dorothy Naylor has served as treasurer to the Board of Education for eight years, as secretary to the Superintendent for sixteen years, and a valued friend to both Student Body and Faculty.

Class of '65 Last Graduating Class at Clarence High School

Senior pictures were taken in the fall and were received in time for dandy Christmas gifts. Mrs. Lila Mary Roy, director, and Phyllis Johnston, student director, helped the Class of '65 present the last Senior Class Play to be held in the auditorium. The "Horrible Hag" and the "Mad Mortician" kept the audience in stitches during the three acts of "Pick-A-Dilly," a hilarious comedy about a will made by a madman and read to a money-hungry family. The senior trip to Kirkwood Lodge in South Missouri was fun--but the memories were sad ones--school was coming to a close.

The Junior-Senior Prom, "In the Misty Moonlight," was beautiful with its twinkling stars and flowing fountain with real, live goldfish! A mural decorating one wall showed the hard work the Class of '66 really did for the last graduating class of Clarence High School. Final tests, trips to Kansas City and Columbia, band events, state and district contests, and all the worry-filled and wonderful things that happened during this last year are now memories . . . Graduation is now over . . . awards were presented to those outstanding in various fields. Larry Maupin was recognized as the only '65 graduate to "suffer" all 180 days his senior year. May the future hold a promise for each graduate and may the next year prove to be as exciting as this past one.

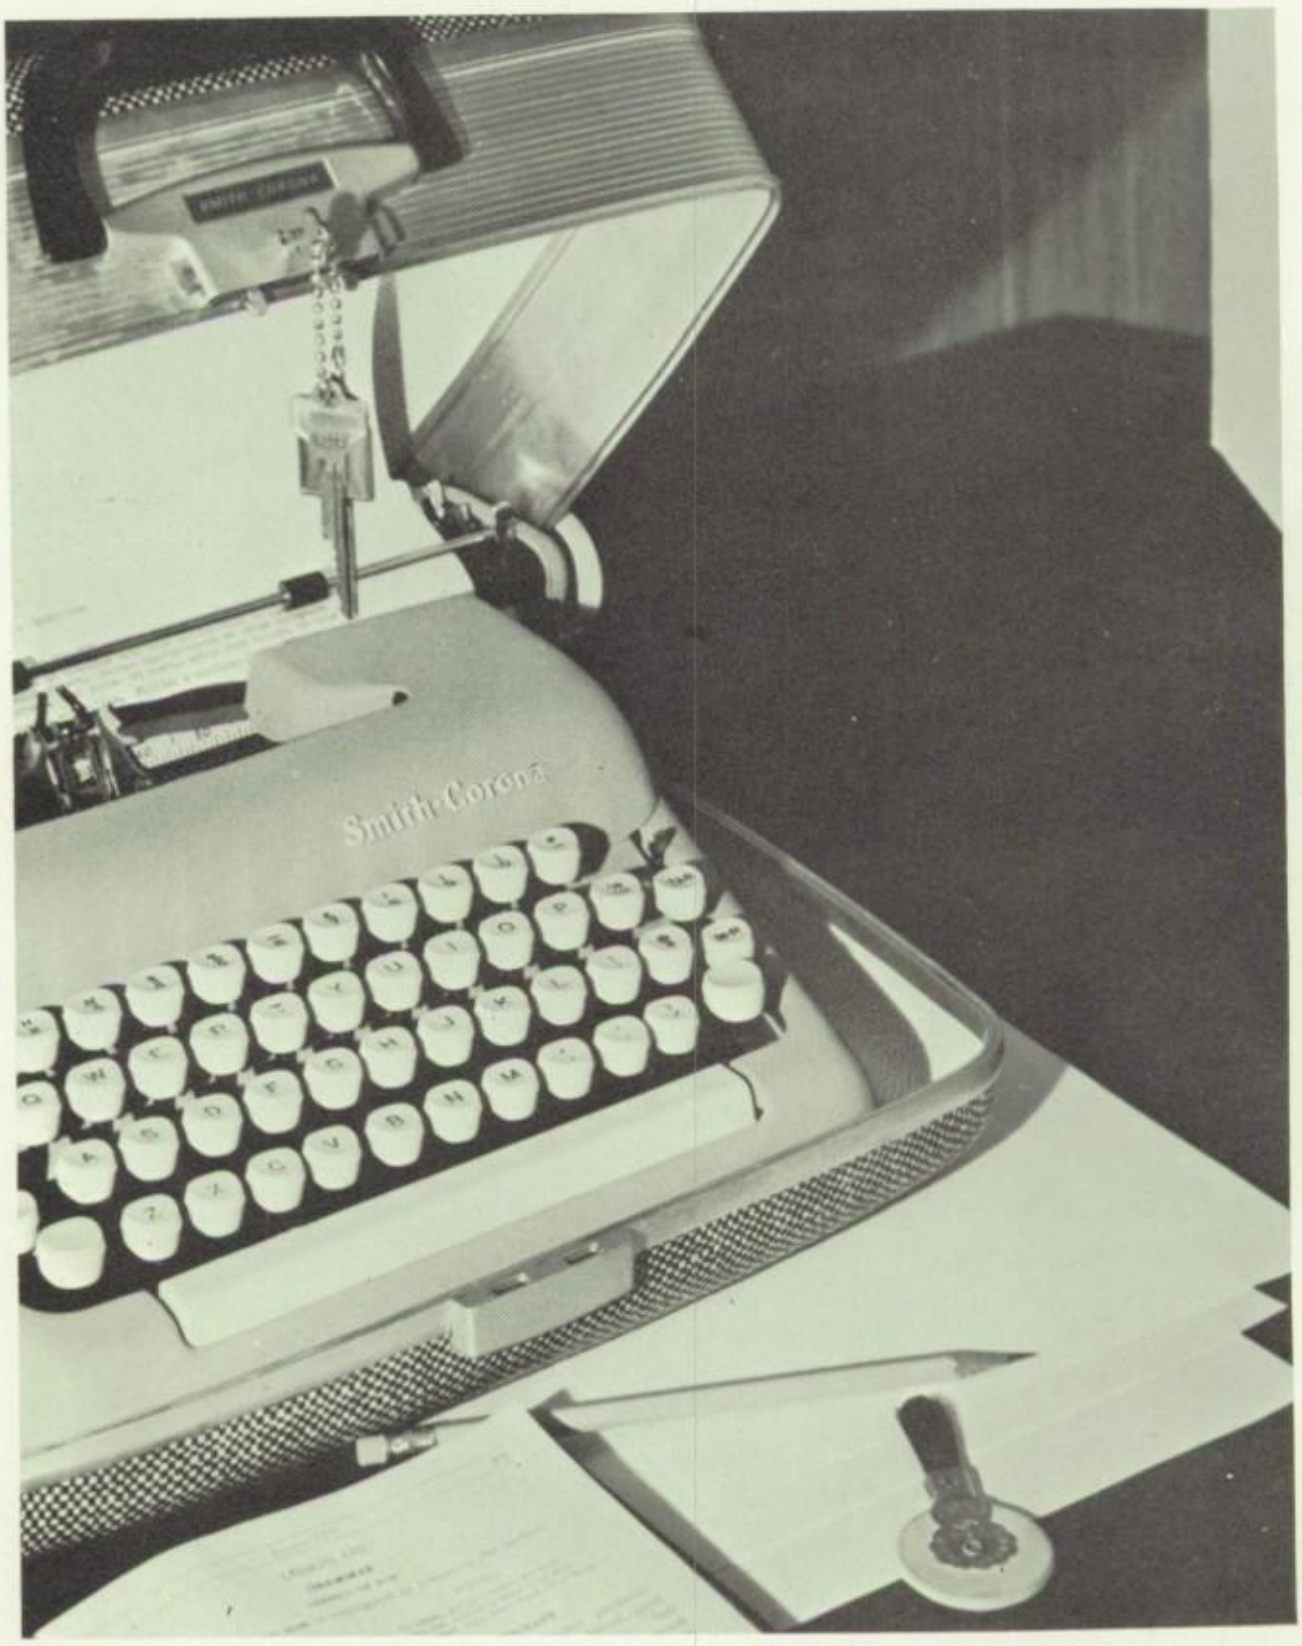
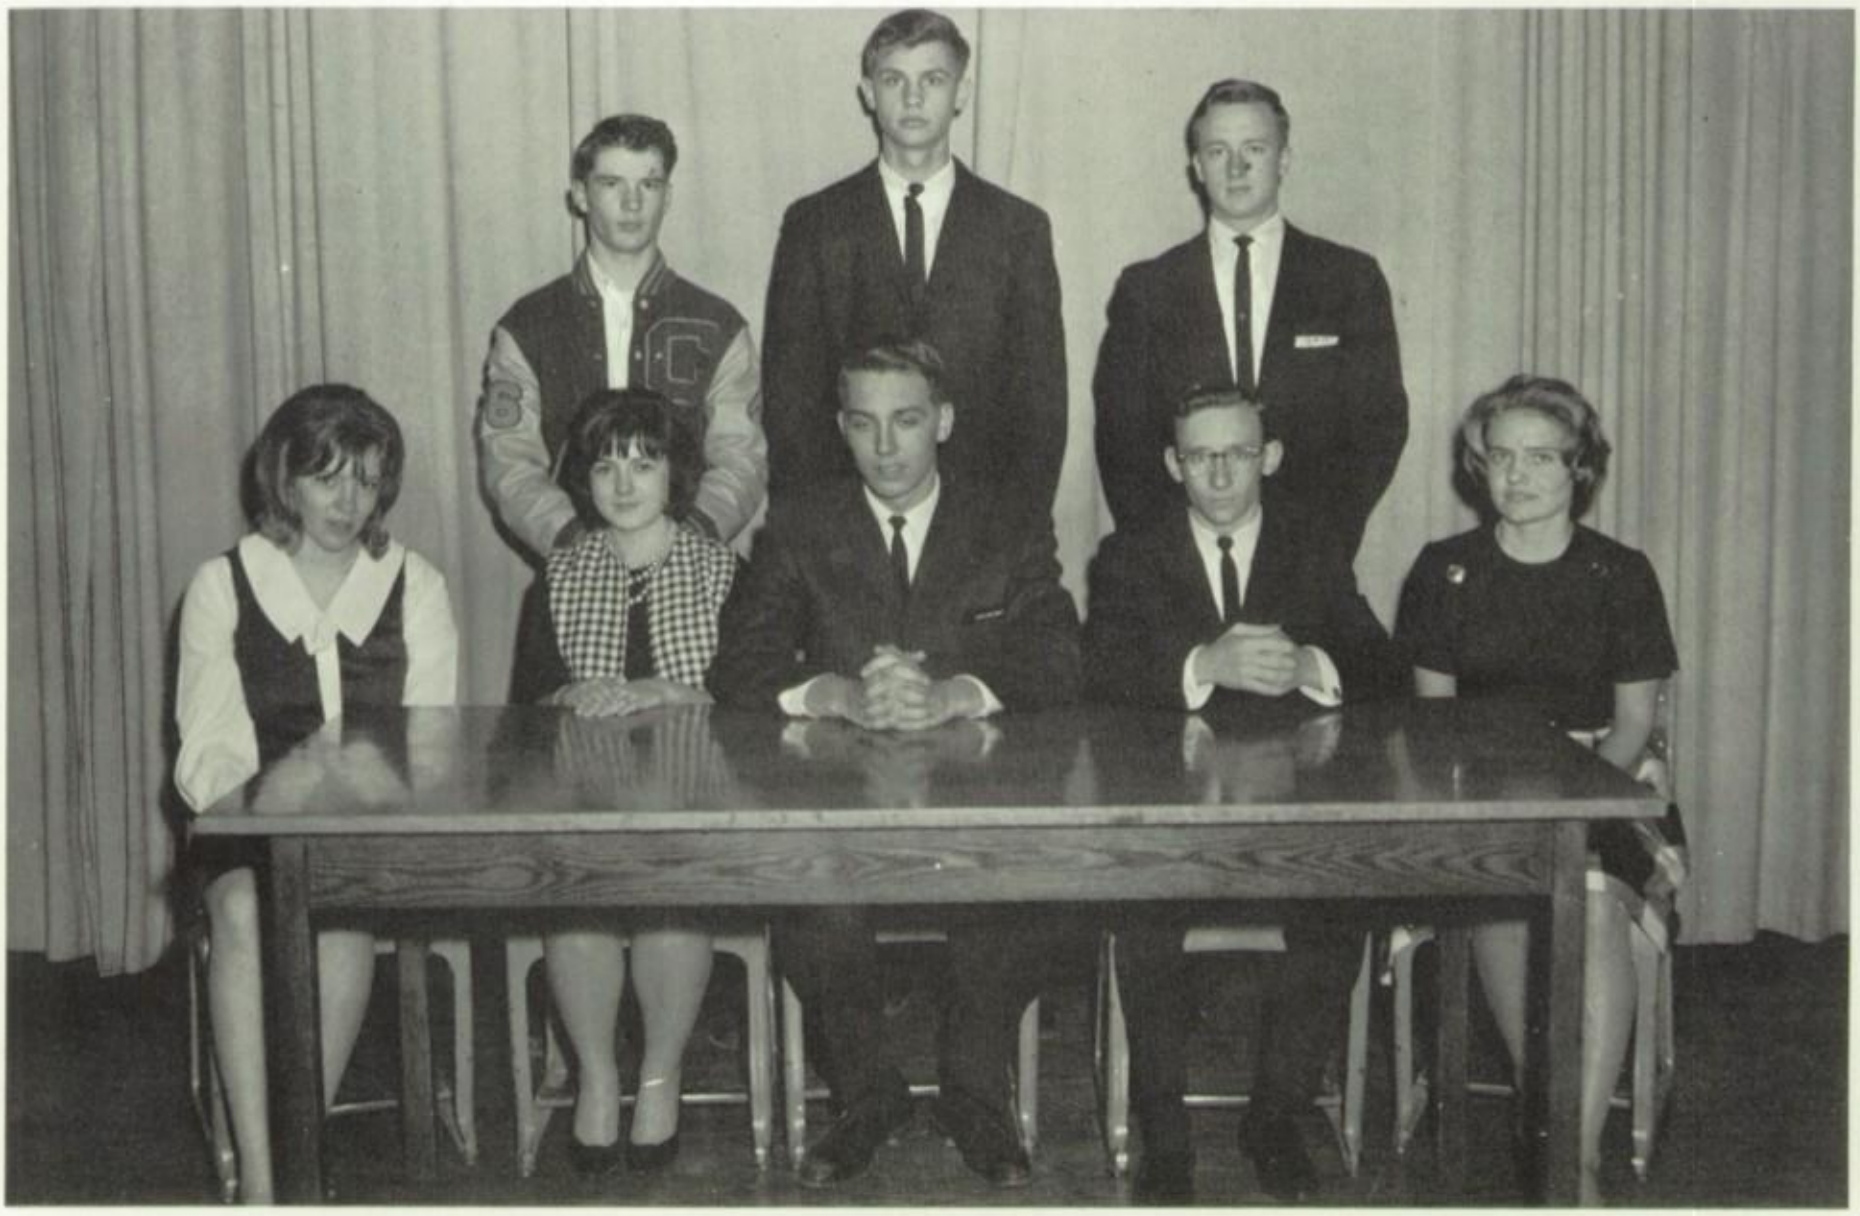
JUNIORS



OFFICERS FOR CLASS OF '66



The Junior Class officers this year were: Roger Edrington, President; Nolan Schwada, Vice-President; Linda Lucas, Secretary; Gary Manford, Treasurer; Arieta Bradley, Reporter; and Martha Chinn, Bernie Loft, and Kent Weisenborn, Student Council Representatives. Sponsors were Mrs. King, Mrs. Schoonover, and Mr. Peeper.

Class of '66 Looks Forward to First Year at South Shelby

The Juniors have made their last year at Clarence High School a very memorable one. Their activities included the production of the Junior play, participation in many extracurricular activities, the presentation of the Prom, and many other enjoyable projects. Their hilarious play, "There Goes the Bride," was presented to the public on October 2. After many hours of hard work, they presented their beautiful prom to the Seniors. The theme chosen was "In the Misty Moonlight."

Although this was their last year at Clarence High School, it was one they will never forget. This class of 1966 will complete their high school education in a wonderful new building--and have the honor of being the first graduating class of South Shelby High School. After report cards were distributed the last day of school, this class became the graduating class of '66. After that . . .

Mike Roy Heads Class of '67 for Second Consecutive Year

The expression, "Silly Sophomores," did not fit the Sophomores this year. They were a hard-working class--to prove this, they really planned the Freshman Initiation party down to the last lipstick mark!

Sponsors of the class were Mrs. Jones, Mr. Ralls, and Mr. Doctorian. Mike Roy was chosen to head the class at the first class meeting. The official reporter for the class, Kathy VanHouten, really "wrote up" some wild news articles for the school paper and kept everyone abreast of the happenings in the Sophomore class. An annual class project was the magazine sale sponsored by the group.

Class of '68 Survives "Green" Freshman Initiation

The Freshmen were very active this year. Many of them participated in many extracurricular activities and earned letters and awards for their work. They were initiated by the Sophomores at the first of school. What an event . . . Mike Barr and Kay Fortenberry were crowned Ma and Pa Beetle at the party given in the school auditorium. All Freshmen were required to dress in appropriate costumes for the event, and various duties were required of them by the "Sophisticated Sophomores."

Several students entered the high school for the first time from rural schools in the area and from other towns. At their first class meeting, Linda Hunolt was elected president. Class sponsors were Mrs. Stevens and Mr. Cox.

The Freshman class returned a party given for the Sophomores in the spring. Games were the diversion for the evening, and refreshments were served.

"LINE UP THAT ROW"

The C.H.S. marching band is shown strutting high on Bean Day. The band made a fine showing throughout the marching season. They were invited to perform at the Hannibal Band Day, the Kirksville Homecoming, and Columbia's Band Day.

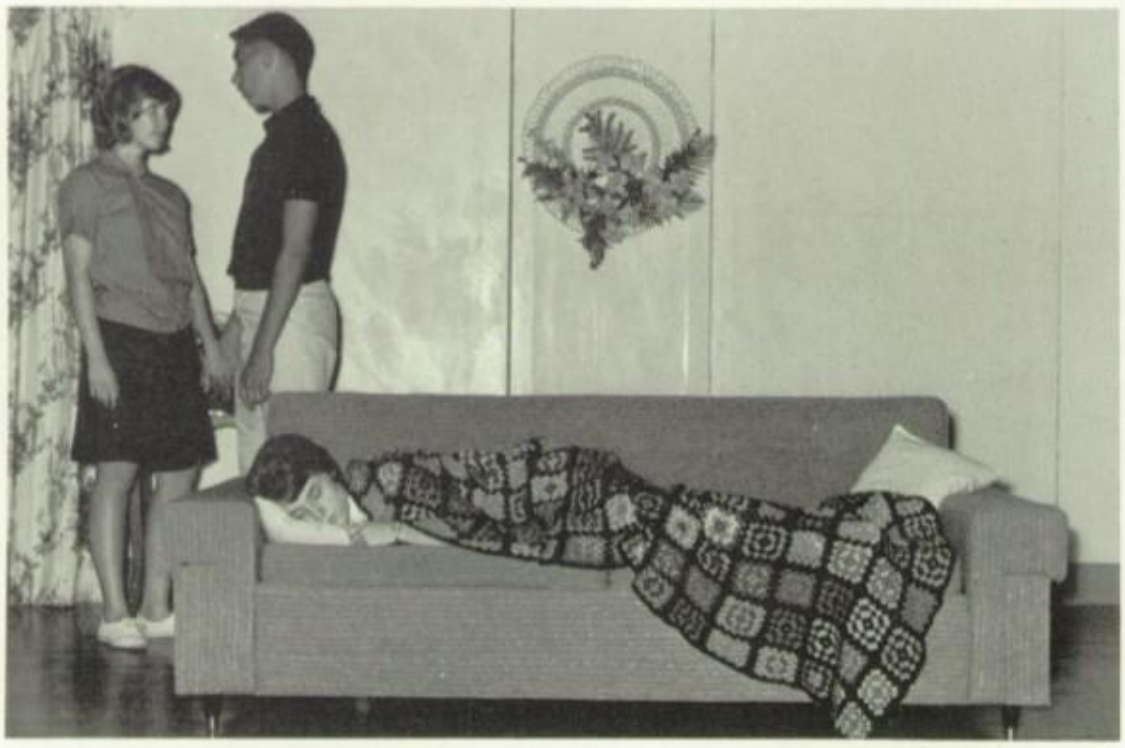
Class of '66 Presents "There Goes the Bride" October 2, 1964 8:00 P.M.

Has Mary finally got her a man?



Do you always look at boys that way, Rita?

Didn't know Tex could be so rough, did you?

Mrs. Manford helps make Carol look like a mother.

Jimmy G. stop that daydreaming!

Kent, whose idea was it for you to pose like that?

I'll bet Linda would like to help Bobby take Gary's pulse.

Jean thinks that helping Mrs. Roy is fun.

We owe a lot of thanks to Mrs. Roy and Mrs. Manford for helping make-up the play cast.

Janie Q., Margie L., and Ida M., YOU will never catch anybody looking like that.

What kind of a shot is Herbie going to give Roger T.?

Phyllis J., our Asst. Director, gives Vicki M. a big scare.

Bev A. is sure looking her old self again.

We always knew James J. was a dummy, but this is ridiculous.

Is David E. up to his harmless pranks again, by letting the rat loose?

Does Judy B. really like men with BEARDS?

Last Graduating Class . . .

Another school year has passed. This is the last graduating class at Clarence High School. The Seniors are gone . . . but there will be more . . . this year is finished . . . but the next will begin all too soon. The halls are quiet now, and lifeless, but there will be other terms, other pulsating crowds, a new building, other young people to learn, and the eyes of the future are on South Shelby High School. Until next year, when it is time for another record of the activities, a brief goodbye to the students--a year older and a year stronger.
